1. Read the following Reading

“today’s Biology class was about pets. I was surprised by the fact That many students like having pets. For many of them a pet is not only a good companion, but also a trusted rescuer in case of an emergency. Besides they consider animals to be just like people who need love and care. They don’t mind feeding them, cleaning their mess, smelling the natural scent of animals, taking them for a daily walk, bringing them to the veterinarian in case of an illness or even taking them to the beauty shop”
