“Engineers and inventors continually develop new products that affect our everyday lives. One product that was developed and has become popular in the last twenty years is the microwave oven. Microwave ovens now appear in new homes, old homes, businesses, restaurants, even on boats and in campers. Indeed, they are everywhere. Most people would agree that this invention, with its many advantages, has had a positive effect on our lives. It has made our busy lives easier. The most important advantage of the microwave is speed. It cooks food much faster than a conventional oven.
